Seminars

Great Natives for Your Virginia Garden

Dr. Holly Scoggins

Dr. Holly presents some wonderful native perennial species and cultivars that can enhance your garden, provide food and habitat for wildlife, AND satisfy our new plant cravings. She also brings a pragmatic viewpoint and some food for thought as to what it means to garden with native plants.

Garden Flow

Karen Rexrode

How welcome do people feel when they come to your garden? Karen defines the basic elements of movement in a garden and how to create the desire to venture further. The topic includes the use of mystery, curves, unity, pattern and mass.

Totally Tropical

Dr. Holly Scoggins

The perfect antidote to winter: a lively array of high-impact tropicals that are perfectly easy to grow in your Zone 6 or 7 garden--fabulous foliage, gorgeous flowers, and tropical vines. Includes container ideas, use in mixed borders, and overwintering tips for many species. Tropicals, take me away!

Photography and the Garden

Karen Rexrode

Karen will give tips and techniques that will elevate your garden photography to a new level. Whether it's your own garden or a friend's, learn about composition, camera choices and how to produce exciting artistic expressions. Not your typical photography lecture--it's geared for the gardener and garden designer, engaging the creative side of our green thumbs.
